The most popular Mouthly in the world.—
New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains hally 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately, illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combraes within itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubener's Guide is American Literature, London. nost popular Mouthly in the

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and in-structive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Bost.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everyloody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but officient purgative PUL. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither caloniel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with asfety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscors to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action — remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exit, such derangements as are the first oright of discusse.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. There are numerous cases where a purgative is required, which we cannot commers the here, but they suggest themselves to everybody, and where the virtues of this Pill are known, the public no longer doubt what to employ.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the couldence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among moet of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and bower to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual renedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Cream, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Constantion is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely dired, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lunga and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
